

DIRECTORS' MESSAGE

As we reflect on 2025, we are filled with gratitude and admiration for our students and volunteer lawyers who have contributed tirelessly to pro bono work. It has been an exceptionally busy and fulfilling year.

The Class of 2025 collectively contributed 8,339 pro bono hours, averaging 47 hours per student. Even more remarkable, nearly one in four students surpassed the demanding threshold of 50 hours (for JD students) or 80 hours (for LLB students) of pro bono service. These figures go beyond mere statistics. They embody the heart, resilience, and commitment of our students, who choose to serve others despite their own overflowing schedules.

This year, we reimagined the Amellia Moo Spirit of Pro Bono Hero Award to better reflect the spirit of service. Beyond counting hours, we also consider the range and depth of engagement. Our 2025 award recipients, Lyu Yijia (JD) and Jolene Tan (LLB), exemplify this spirit. They did not just volunteer; they immersed themselves in projects like University Court Friends, legal awareness talks, legal clinics, and deputyship support.

When asked what motivated her, Yijia shared, “whenever my studies grew intense, pro bono offered me perspective and balance”, reminding her of the human stories behind the Law. Jolene reflected that her experience “reaffirmed her purpose for studying Law, which is to help and serve others”. These words remind us why we do what we do.

We applaud five exceptional volunteer lawyers this year. Two lawyers received the Spirit of Pro Bono Champion Award:

- Asoka Markandu, for mentoring students in Project Lighthouse, who were commended by District Judge Shawn Ho for their thoughtful mitigation plea, resulting in a significantly reduced sentence. This echoes similar praise from District Judge Paul Quan a year earlier in another case;
- Shaun Lee, for consistently supporting our LPA certification efforts, often at short notice, and always taking the time to encourage students in their legal journey.

Three lawyers received long service awards:

- Alvin Ong: Spirit of Pro Bono Silver Award (10 years of service);
- Zheng Pei: Spirit of Pro Bono Silver Award (10 years of service);
- Junie Loh: Spirit of Pro Bono Bronze Award (5 years of service).

We launched our new corporate video as well as two new initiatives this year, Project Lexplore and Deputyship Report Filing, both of which are creating meaningful benefits for the communities we serve. We also conducted over 50 legal awareness talks, completed more than 200 LPA certifications at nine organisations, assisted nearly 100 applicants at our legal clinic, and helped over 100 deputies file their reports to the Public Guardian – each a meaningful step towards greater access to justice.

Together with our partner organisations, volunteer lawyers and students, we look forward to continuing our mission to serve the community's legal needs and nurturing the next generation of socially conscious lawyers.

Even though it may not be possible to offer a practical solution to those who come to the legal clinic, we can still give them comfort by being there to listen.

WHAT STUDENTS & PARTNER AGENCIES SAY

ALICIA ZHAN HAORAN

LLB Class of 2027

I am grateful for the opportunity to take part in Project Will Writing. From taking instructions from the caregivers to writing the Will, the project provided an independent and hands-on experience. It was great for me to see the caregivers feeling reassured from having their Will signed. I hope that this project will continue in the long term and benefit more people.

I learnt that access to legal aid and the level of legal knowledge is very different in Thailand as compared to Singapore. It was eye-opening as it revealed that in Singapore, we really are very privileged to have generally good access to legal aid, healthcare and safety.

After our group presented our lesson to the Chiang Mai University law students, they told us that they learnt a lot from us. We can tell that they really enjoyed the lesson and at that moment, I felt that all our efforts were worth it and it was really heart-warming to know that they have benefited.

HIGHLIGHTS

PROJECT LEXPLORE CHIANG MAI 2025

Held from 22 June to 5 July 2025, 11 SMU students collaborated with 15 Chiang Mai University law students in Thailand. They delivered legal talks at Wildflower Home, taught English at Rang Mai Library, and created Lawtoons, which are illustrated comic books with accompanying audiobooks on “Know Your Rights” and “Say No to Bullying”, in both English and Thai. One student shared that the trip taught him to “serve with heart, see with an open mind, and embrace different systems and cultures.”

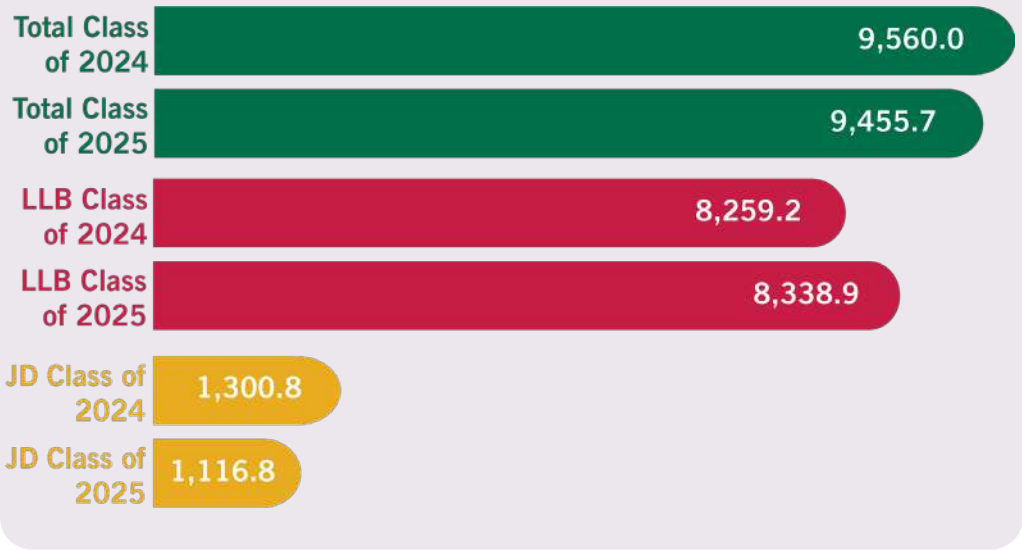

DEPUTYSHIP REPORT FILING

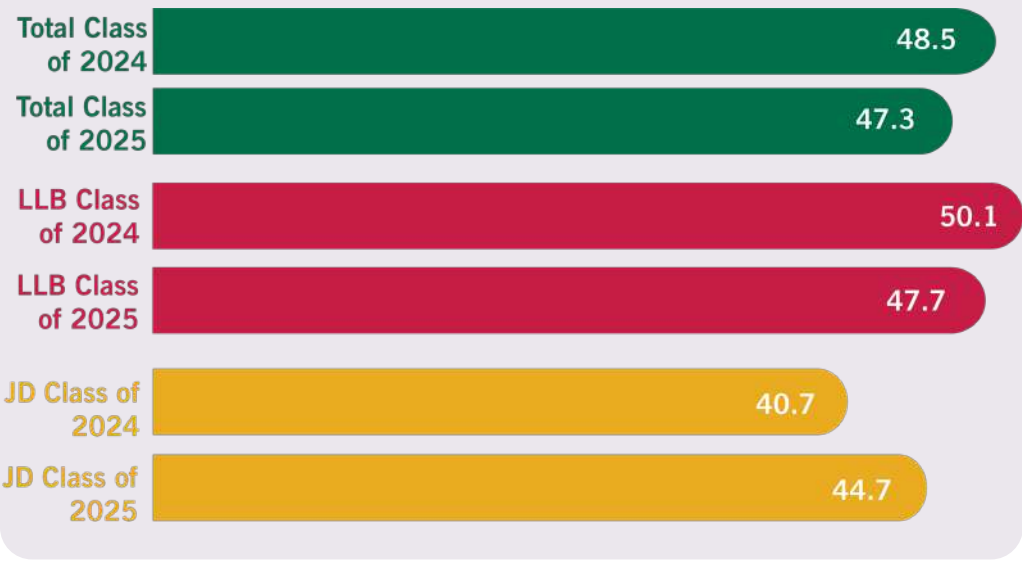

Since May 2025, deputies who need help filing their annual reports on the Office of Public Guardian Online System (OPGO) have been coming to the SMU Pro Bono Centre every Thursday afternoon. In just five months, 98 deputies have received assistance from our student volunteers. It has been an educational experience for students and deeply appreciated by the deputies.
